DREAMS GIVE YOUR CHILD A SENSE OF PURPOSE

- Every child must have goals, aims and dreams and they must be developed during their childhood. Penning them down on paper, is a whole different interest, passion and challenge during one's childhood.
- Children may find it a bit challenging to express their goals, aims and dreams in words on paper but they must begin to express them. Parents hold the key to children's success in education, future career and life and they can certainly empower their children to dream big provided they give them an early start.

Dear Parents,

Have you checked your Child's Handbook on Page No. 08 ? I was waiting for and finally, checked it this morning. The space was given to the children with a purpose. Children were not informed to pen down and fill the space ... and that too was with a purpose.

The following students are the awardees of the year 2023-24. The cash prize will be sent to the awardees' bank account, provided the awardees have a bank account.
