IMPORTANT NOTE

- ✓ Students who miss the school assembly are those who report to school late. Unfortunately, some students have developed a habit of being consistently irregular. We also understand that parents may not always be aware of their child's late arrivals.
- ✓ To address this issue and emphasize the importance of punctuality, starting Monday, a class-wise group photograph of latecomers will be shared in the respective class WhatsApp groups. This initiative aims to instill a sense of responsibility and teach students the value of time.
- ✓ Participating in the school assembly is crucial as it begins with a moment of prayer, allowing students to fold their hands before God and seek blessings for the day. Additionally, assemblies include important instructions and motivational talks from teachers, which students should not miss.
- ✓ Interestingly, during exam days, no student reported late to class. This shows that students are capable of being punctual when they understand the importance of the occasion. Let us work together to ensure the same level of discipline and commitment throughout the school year.
